Veterans Day

On this Veterans Day, I want to thank each and every person who ever swore an oath and donned the uniform of a Soldier, Marine, Sailor, Airman or Coast Guardsman. No matter the era or where duty called you, you took a solemn oath to defend this great nation of ours. That by itself puts you in the minority of our citizenship – a dedicated few who have earned the great esteem of being called a veteran.

Earning this status – and it surely is earned – is not easy. Beyond pledging yourself to something greater than yourself, many of you have been called to action to actually fulfill that pledge. It is one thing to think about patriotism and being a patriot. It's another to say and mean the words "I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same." It's another entirely to answer your nation's call and physically act on that oath – taking up arms against the enemies of our country. Our living veterans have earned their respect by taking up arms in World War II, Korea, Vietnam, the first and second Gulf Wars, and Afghanistan, among many others. We have veterans of the Cold War, Grenada, Panama and Somalia. Joining the Armed Forces means the possibility of serving at anytime, anywhere in the world.

While our veterans have served the world over in wars both necessary and not, popular and not, soldiers do not make our nation's foreign policy – they deliver it. They deliver it with boots on the ground and from high in the sky, from rifles and cannons, but also from their presence, professionalism and empathy for those they help after the fight. This world and our veterans themselves have been forever shaped by the places our veterans have been and the things their eyes have seen.

More than 100 years ago militaries from seemingly the world over clashed in Europe, carrying out the orders of their nations's leaders. World War I began in 1914 and most of Europe was at war. That war left the world with a path to World War II and with many of the final political boundaries and nations we see today, as well as many of the enduring religious, ethnic and political strife that continues to this day.

In 1917, after years of standing by, the United States of America entered into the Great War, as it was then called. Americans were called upon to serve in great numbers, including of course many Wisconsinites who served with great distinction. From Wisconsin, 122,215 served and 3,932 were casualties.

The end of the Great War came on November 11, 1918 – Armistice Day. It's the day we celebrate today as Veterans Day. As veterans we can all trace our lineage back to a starting point and World War I is no different. Wisconsinites served then as they do now and did before – carrying on the tradition of selfless service and passing it along through others to us today.

While we have no living veterans of World War I – a soldier named Frank Buckles who died in 2011 at the age of 110 was the last living American veteran of the war – we use days like today to remember them.

The history of World War I is a solemn reminder of the cost of war and that time marches on and old veterans fade away, but whose memories are kept alive.

All Four Facilities at Wisconsin Veterans Home at King Now Ranked 5-Stars

Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs (WDVA) Secretary John A. Scocos has announced that according to the October 2016 Nursing Home Compare Five-Star Ratings of Nursing Homes Provider Rating Report by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), each of the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King's four facilities is now rated 5-stars out of 5-stars, the first time this milestone has been reached at the Home.

"Our mission is to provide the safest and best quality care to our nation's heroes and the latest reports by CMS indicate that our efforts are paying off," Secretary Scocos said. "While we did receive some citations during our latest inspection, we take those citations seriously and as always we are putting corrective action plans in place immediately so that we may make improvements."

CMS implemented the Five-Star Quality Rating System on Nursing Home Compare in December 2008, assigning each individual nursing home a rating based on: quality of care delivered; direct care staffing levels; and the results of annual healthcare inspections conducted by each state's department of health. The facilities at King have individually been rated at 5-stars at varying times, but this is the first instance where all four facilities were rated 5-stars all at the same time.

Wisconsin Veterans Homes undergo regular rigorous inspection by both State and Federal entities who review a set of 187 healthcare standards and 82 life safety standards. State Department of Health Services and US Department of Veterans Affairs annual inspections of the Wisconsin Veterans Homes take several days to complete by teams of professionals whose job it is to understand the many regulations that affect the care individuals receive at 24-hour skilled nursing care facilities.

Only 15 percent of homes in the country receive a 5-star rating.

On behalf of the members, we sincerely Thank Everyone for their generous donations.

HELP WANTED!

Welcome Salute Volunteers are NEEDED!

The Welcome Salute is a program you may have heard about which started a few months ago at the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King. It is a program which offers new members an opportunity to get to know each other, current members, volunteers, and to learn a little bit more about the King campus.

When first coming to King, it is fair to say, one's impression may be that it is a big place with a lot of people to meet, places to go, and things to become familiar with. The Welcome Salute was initiated to assist with making the move to King an easier transition with a more welcoming environment.

So what is the Welcome Salute all about? Within a couple of weeks of being admitted to the Veterans Home at King, new members will receive an invitation from a current member or volunteer to attend the next program. The program takes place every other Thursday in the Marden Library from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. On the morning of the Welcome Salute, a member or volunteer will come directly to the new member's room to personally escort them to the Library, so there are no worries for the new member to try to find the location on their own. Coffee and snacks are provided while we go around the room making introductions. Each member is presented with a ribbon honoring their service specific to the branch in which they served. From the Library's meet and greet the new members are taken on a personalized tour of the campus by a volunteer. The new member is able to direct where they want to go and what they want to see. Once the tour is completed, the volunteer escorts the new member back to their room. If the new member would prefer to skip the tour and go directly to their room, they are able to do that as well.

If you would like to volunteer and become involved, please call Amber Nikolai at 715.258.4247.

The Library has added several books to its permanent collection. Following are some of those books.

Scarlet Feather by Maeve Binchy

Follow cooking school friends Tom Feather and Cathy Scarlet as they launch a catering company “Scarlet Feather.” Their goal is to make their new business the best in Dublin. Of course, there are complications. Cathy’s mother-in-law (who already disapproved of her son’s choice of a wife) thinks the catering business is just a hobby and that Cathy should stay at home! Neil, Cathy’s husband, is too involved in his work as a civil rights lawyer to even notice what she is doing. Tom’s parents are upset that he opted to open “Scarlet Feather” instead of carrying on the family building business.

If you are a fan of Maeve Binchy, this book will not disappoint you!

It’s Not About Me by Max Lucado

For the most part, we have lived with the idea that we should look out for number one, and that we are the headliners in life’s drama. Why is it, then, that so often all of our efforts to be the center of our world – leave us feeling unsatisfied and empty?

Author Max Lucado alleges that we were never made to live in this way. “What would happen if we all took our place and played our parts? If we started living like ‘Son’ reflectors rather than individual stars and suns?” Lucado believes “The God-centered life works. And it rescues us from a life that doesn’t.” Check it out – see what you think!

Illegal Action by Stella Rimington

Delve into the counter-espionage world of Britain’s M15. Ambitious M15 officer Liz Carlyle has been transferred to counter-espionage where there is plenty for her to do. London has more spies than there were during the height of East-West hostilities. Even Russia still has a large contingent! Liz quickly discovers a plot to silence one of those Russians: Nikita Brunovsky, an increasingly vocal opponent of Vladimir Putin. Liz has to find out how the assassination is going to be carried out – because this act cannot be allowed to occur. Brunovsky’s assassination could bring about a full-blown international incident. Follow the suspense as Liz goes undercover in her effort to stave off this disaster.

Sundance by David Fuller

Remember the movie – Butch Cassidy and The Sundance Kid were killed in a shootout in Bolivia? Well, this novel tells a different story.

Harry Longbaugh (Sundance) is alive and serving time in Wyoming under an alias. He is released in 1913, and hardly recognizes the world now. Horses are being replaced by automobiles, gas lamps are giving way to electric lights, etc. In addition, it has been two years since Harry heard from his beloved wife, Etta Place. His search for Etta takes him to the big city of New York, where he finds himself trying to stay ahead of the legend of the Sundance Kid.

Man With a Gun by Robert Daley

Phil Keefe has been hand-picked by the new police commissioner to be a deputy commissioner of the New York Police Department! Phil is a respected journalist and not your average cop, so his new position suits him in that he will help decide on policy and priorities. Of course, as part of his job, he will carry a gun and a badge.

It isn’t long before Phil’s own ambition and the power struggles of the police brass plunge him into a situation where he is forced to use the gun. His action sets into motion a domino effect. Some careers are destroyed, he is catapulted into the limelight, and finds he is now considered persona non grata by the police brass.

Follow this man’s “struggle to seek justice in a criminal justice system that he has once served and that has now turned against him.”

Fatal Tide by Iris Johansen

Enter the world of marine research with Melis Nemid. Meli thought she had put her violent past behind her when she arrived at her Caribbean Island home to research dolphin behavior. Unfortunately, Meli knows things that put her life in danger. One oceanographer came close to discovering the deadly mystery that lies beneath the sea, and he disappeared! Meli is the last one who knows the truth, and someone is determined that the truth will die with her!

Backfire by Catherine Coulter

San Francisco Judge Ramsey Hunt is presiding over the trial of a couple accused in a string of murders. The trial is interrupted when Judge Hunt is shot in the back of the head! The judge’s longtime friends, agents Lacey Sherlock and Dillon Savich, find out about the murder when an ominous note is delivered to them at the Hoover Building. The note reads “YOU DESERVE THIS FOR WHAT YOU DID.” The pair immediately head to San Francisco to solve this crime. And now a target is on their backs too.

“THANKS LIVING”

Psalm 100:4-5 Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful to Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endures forever. (New King James Version)

Psalm 100 is a “Psalm of Thanksgiving” and is descriptive in giving “Thanks and Praise” to our God.

Thanksgiving defined is the act of giving thanks, a grateful acknowledgement of benefits or favors, especially to God. Praise defined is the act of expressing approval or admiration.

The Thanksgiving holiday will be soon upon us and will give each of us an opportunity to pause and reflect on what we have been blessed with this past year, and to give “Thanks.” We will also have the opportunity to express our “Praise” (or admiration) to those whom have blessed us.

Throughout the scriptures, we are encouraged many times with the words, “thanksgiving and praise.” Why would this instruction from the Lord be so important, to be communicated to us?

I have experienced and believe that thanksgiving and praise can do something very special to encourage our own heart and life, and the hearts and lives of others.

Thanksgiving and praise can enlarge our gratefulness toward those people or gifts we are blessed by. Thanksgiving and praise can enlarge our gratefulness toward the Lord.

Take a moment, reflect, and think about a blessing that you have received. As you received that blessing with a thankful heart, how did it make you feel? Did the blessing enlarge your gratefulness for whom you received the blessing?

Compare that experience to when we do not receive a blessing with a heart of thanksgiving. Without a grateful heart, the blessing may not be as significant. We can feel as if we deserve what we have received. We can take the blessing for granted. We can take it or leave it.

Thanksgiving and praise from our heart can provide life to the soul of both ourself and to the giver!

Now, let’s think about from whom our blessings come, and the benefit we receive, in giving and receiving praise.

In the book of James, Chapter 1, verse 17, the Word of God tells us that: Every good gift and perfect gift is from above. (NKJV) When we acknowledge this truth, that all good gifts come from the Lord because of His love and care for us, it does something inside of us. Our view about the love and goodness of the Lord is enlarged. God becomes “BIGGER” to us. It becomes our desire to express our gratefulness and admiration to the Lord.

How do you feel when someone acknowledges and thanks you for what you have done on their behalf? Do you feel loved and appreciated? Are you filled with a sense of awe, as you realize the Lord has used you to bless another?

We are honoring our God, as we acknowledge Him with our thanksgiving and praise. We are also blessed as we receive thanksgiving and praise from those we serve with our hearts. There ought to be great blessing in both giving and receiving thanksgiving and praise!

The wonderful truth is that every day can be filled with thanksgiving and praise!

Thanksgiving and Praise to the Lord, and to one another!

I pray that every day is a “Thanks Living Day” for you, and that you will be blessed as you express your thanksgiving and praise to the Lord and to your loved ones.

Thanksgiving Day Blessings to you and your families!

Home at King

Volunteer
Meet Sharon Thompson

“I am very proud to be a volunteer at the Wisconsin Veterans Home at King. I have made a lot of nice friends! It’s an awesome feeling to know we can make a difference in a veteran’s life. I have helped at King since I retired about seven years ago. I started with bingo at Stordock Hall with the VFW Auxiliary unit 1027; of which I am life member. I also help with bus trips, picnics, and in our new King Exchange. Our King Exchange is an awesome program of donated items to assist in clothing our veterans. Sometimes we get new members who come straight from hospitals with only the clothes on their backs. It is so fun to make up a package of clothing for them. I am a proud grandma of five grandsons. My son and daughter and their families live in Waupaca; I am so blessed. My grandfathers, dad, brother and husband were in the military, “LIFERS” as they call it. So it’s in my blood to give to those who gave so much.”

~ Sharon Thompson

“Sharon Thompson is an outstanding person to have on our volunteer staff! She is always willing to go the extra mile and ready to come in on a moment’s notice, if available. Sharon is extremely personable and totally demonstrates her love and care for our members. She is an extremely valuable person to have working with us.”

~ Jeane Grys KX.

“Sharon has been a great asset when volunteering for our All Camp Trips for several years. With her dedication to our department, knowing our members so well, recognizing their needs, whether it’s for our shopping trips or Lunch & Bingo trips, staff and members can always depend on Sharon for any assistance along with her friendly personality. Thank you Sharon for all you do for our trips!”

Barn Wood

I walked out to the field and just stood there, gazing at that old barn.
 You couldn't get paint that beautiful.
 Only years of standing in the weather, bearing the storms, and scorching sun.
 Only that can produce beautiful barn wood.
 It came to me then.
 We're a lot like that, you and I.
 Only it's on the inside that the beauty grows within us.
 Sure we turn silver gray too....and lean a bit more than
 We did when we were young and full of sap.
 But the Good Lord knows what He's doing.
 And as the years pass.
 He's busy using the hard weather of our lives.
 The dry spells and the stormy seasons to do a job of beautifying our souls that nothing else can produce.
 And to think how often folks holler because they want life easy!
 And I reckon someday you and I'll be hauled off
 To Heaven to take on whatever chores the Good Lord has for us.
 And I suspect we'll be more beautiful
 Then for the seasons we've been through here....
 And just maybe even add a bit of beauty to our Father's house.
